Spiceblend™ RF

Description

Spiceblend RF is a complementary feed developed for use in feed for livestock. The product consists of selected spices with taste enhancing properties and is suitable for organic production.

Spiceblend RF contains a unique combination of antioxidants and active compounds from fenugreek (Trigonella foenum-graecum) and rosemary (Rosmarinus officinalis).

Spiceblend RF can be used in extruded, expanded and pelleted feeds, as well as in meal feeds. The composition of the product makes it ready for use by feed manufacturers and by home mixers.

Spiceblend RF is suitable for use in organic production and consists of 100 % conventional spices.
